After a recent spike in COVID-19 cases, Douglas County’s local health officer issued two orders last week, one that requires masks in indoor public spaces or in situations where keeping 6 feet of social distance cannot be maintained and another that closed bars and nightclubs beginning July 3.

Periodically during the disease investigation process, cases initially assigned to us are later reassigned by the Kansas Department of Health and Environment to another county, which accounts for updated totals for recent days compared with totals in Monday’s update.
